Dear colleagues,

In memory of Marek Zvelebil, IANSA is preparing a special issue devoted to the primary topics of his life’s work. Under the framework of “Neolithic Transformation in Europe and the Enculturation of Landscapes”, we are inviting topical submissions from his friends and colleagues across Europe. This is a celebration of Marek’s life’s work and his ideas; in recognition of an eminent archaeologist whose work has meaning across the entire profession.

We are looking for any and all submissions related to Marek and this topic, of any length, including reflections and personal anecdotes about Marek, critiques and criticisms, through to original research.

The deadline for submissions is 31st March 2012. Please, send your manuscripts to mlejnek.o@seznam.cz.

This special issue will be printed in 2012. Other important information such as the Guidelines for Authors can be found at www.iansa.eu in section for authors.

We look forward to hearing from you!
